Accessibility – why is it important and what should your agency be doing? Jason Kiss, Principal Advisor Accessibility, Government Information Services, from DIA, talks about what we mean by accessibility, why simply posting a document on your website does not necessarily mean it is accessible, and what we should be working towards (including the Accessibility Charter).
Workshop - monitoring and reporting of proactive release, and review of the Cabinet paper policy Stephen Moore, Principal Advisor, Integrity, Ethics and Standards, SSC SSC is reporting back to the Minister of State Services in December on the Proactive release of Cabinet papers policy, and what a future regime for monitoring and reporting of proactive release will look like. This workshop will inform that work.
